CHAMPAGNE
POMMER

french champagne

VRANKEN POMMERY

Reims, France

The eighteen stages which are necessary to elaborate a Pommery champagne are marked by a special signature.

This signature has been based since the very beginning of the Maison in 1836 on our commitment to include in the composition of the cuvées created by the winemaker only the best grapes of Champagne, i.e. in particular those from villages of origin which are classified on the “échelle des crus.”

Since the creation of the Brut by Madame Pommery in 1874, the Brut Royal, the Pommery Millésimé Grand Cru and, more particularly, the Cuvée Louise have been able to express themselves off the beaten tracks to enthral connoisseurs and discerning amateurs.

In a permanent quest for perfection, the Maison definitely and consistently advocates the idea of a unique knowhow of its own, without compromise but always with emotion.

CUVEE LOUISE

BRUT ROYAL NV
BRUT ROYAL NV MAGNUM

TASTING NOTE

This fine champagne is a blend of forty carefully selected crus from the Champagne region. It is made up of three grape varieties: Pinot Noir, Pinot Meunier, and about onethird Chardonnay. This subtle blend is then aged in the Pommery cellars for about three years in order to develop its full aroma. Fresh and vivacious, with a supple, fruity finish. A composition that is light yet well structured and full of charm.

BRUT APANAGE

TASTING NOTE

A step up from the Brut Royale. Only twelve carefully selected crus are used to make this elegant champagne, with a noticeably greater presence of the finest Grand Crus from the Pommery vineyard. Chardonnay grapes make up about 45% of Brut Royal Apanage, which is left to age six months longer than Brut Royal. Mellow with a firm structure, revealing the charms of Brut Royal, but with added depth.

BRUT ROSE

TASTING NOTE

A festive salmon pink, with a subtle tinge of rust. Fruity and fleshy, elegantly robust with a perfect balance of freshness. Although delightful by day, soft lighting is the most flattering to Brut Rose's colors, making it the champagne of romantic evenings, par excellence.

To create Brut Rosé, Pommery selects some thirty crus. In this delicate composition, Chardonnay grapes are predominant, making up over one-third of the blend. A handful of Pinot Noir grapes are made into red wine before being blended with the Chardonnay and Pinot Meunier varieties.

The Brut Rose is then aged in the Pommery cellars for an average of three years.

GRAND CRU

TASTING NOTE

In the glass Grand Cru delivers pale yellow flourishes and delicate green reflections. It opens the door to a highly floral universe where the aromas of beeswax, almost honey-like, are elegantly paired with some notes of dried lemon zest revealing the natural freshness of the wine. Then, ever so gently, the yeasts unleash, culminating in creamy, brioche notes.

CUVEE LOUISE

TASTING NOTE

Yellow with almost golden nuances. The numerous aromas are unleashed in various registers ranging from mature red berries, over notes of beeswax and freshly dried acacia to flourishes of quince paste, all of them set off by a flourish of minerality that imbues this Louise with generosity and roundness. The overall sensation is limpid, clear and without artifice. Encompassing the freshness and finesse of silk enhanced by the reassuring warmth of velvet.
