BEELGARA

Beelbangera NSW

The Beelgara Winery has a history that dates back over 80 years, Italian immigrants originally built it in 1930.

The winery is near the village of Beelbangera, which is in the Riverina and one of Australia's largest grape growing regions.

The name Beelgara is taken from the original name "Beelgara Vineyards" which is the proud and historical name for the vineyard sites that surround the winery even today.

The Brolga, also known as the Aboriginal "native companion", is now depicted on our new Estate Range label, to remind us of our Beelbangera origins and proud Australian heritage.

CUMULUS

Orange Region, NSW

In the early 1980's some astute and dedicated wine pioneers recognised the cool climate and ideal soils of the Orange region. The area, alongside Mudgee and Cowra, produces twice the amount of wine as the Hunter Valley.

The founders of what is now Cumulus were ambitious, planting a massive 500 hectares of vineyard and built a 10,000 tonne winery with storage capacity for 8 million litres of wine. In 2004, the company was renamed "Cumulus Estate Wines", inspired by the local cloud formations of the area. In 2007, the Portuguese based, Berardo family joined us, bringing a wealth of knowledge and expertise.

Today, Cumulus Estate Wines is the largest producer of an emerging wine region, with 508 hectares under vine, classified as 48% Orange and 52% Central Ranges. The vineyard has at least ten different varieties - Shiraz, Cabernet, Merlot, Grenache, Mourvedre, Chardonnay, Pinot Grigio, Semillon, Sauvignon Blanc and Riesling. With mild summers and cold winters, good winter and spring rains aid vine development. As a member of entwine, we also practice excellent sustainable farming practices.

JJ HAHN

Barossa Valley, SA

The Hahn's are as Barossa blue blood as you can get; almost national treasures. Maria and Johann Christian Hahn arrived in the Barossa Valley in 1845.

Like all the early Barossa settlers they were of Silesian-German descent. Early settlers also staked out the best of the valleys farm land. Remarkably this land holding is still in Hahn family hands, six generations on. The history does not stop there as the current custodians, Jacqui and James Hahn still live in the original homestead constructed from 1846 to 1848. The partnership of Rolf Binder/Veritas wines and the Hahn family is to recognize the heritage status of this family, the ancient vines and their unique part of the Barossa Valley's history.

JONES ROAD

Mornington Peninsula, VIC

The Frewer family established Jones Road vineyard in 1997 at Somerville on the Mornington Peninsula overlooking Westernport Bay. The maritime climate of this region produces some of Australia's best cool climate wines because of the late ripening, the fertile soil and careful vineyard management.

Since those early days we have secured lease on 2 other vineyards here on the Peninsula. One on the Port Phillip side, close to the water and the other at Balnarring near the Westernport Bay. This has increased our vineyards to 60 acres. With these extra parcels of fruit it gives the winemakers an opportunity to blend from the different sites, mixing different terroirs.

FIONULA RANGE

PINOT GRIGIO

TASTING NOTE

An early picking window that ensures supreme flavour ripeness and the full capture of natural acid. The press cycle is gentle to keep the wine delicate.

Fionula is bright pale gold, showing aromas of classic pinot musk, pink fruits and pear.

A middle palate rolling with generous ripe fruits and textured minerality from the limestone soil, finishing crisply and with poise.

NERO D'AVOLA

Lifted fragrant fully ripe black fruits on nose.

The aroma offers fresh cherry, damson plum, and notes of cardamom and clove.

Elegant palate: fresh pure black cherry and subtle fine tannin, bring fruit flavours evocative of blueberry, boysenberry over a subtle but supportive savouriness underpinned by moderate tannins.

This is an energetic wine, both intriguing and drinkable.

SINGLE VINEYARD

"MOTHER OF PEARL"
PINOT GRIGIO

TASTING NOTE

Aromas of rock pool, pear and wood smoke.

Light and energetic on the palate with a delicious dollop of creamy fruit. This is the heritage blend of four vineyards Quealy manage that are all within the warmer Westernport coastal plain sub region.

Bright and crunchy, the early picking and cool grey skies protecting the precious acidity of this naturally low acid variety.

"MUSK CREEK"
PINOT GRIS

TASTING NOTE

There are definite Pinot Noir notes in Musk Creek Pinot Gris and yet the wine is a lustrous green-gold hue.

Mornington Peninsula Pinot Gris at its most voluptuous. Aroma of wild honey, wood smoke and moving towards classic pinot noir aromas of red berry, forest floor. Powerful palate of the honey and berry, soft and rich however not sweet, and poised with natural acidity and ever so delicate white tannin.

"MUSK CREEK"
PINOT NOIR

TASTING NOTE

Musk Creek embodies the contrast of cool climate Pinot Noir.

On the nose, divine aromas of fresh cherry, rhubarb and autumn leaves preserved by the invigorating location.

Extended hangtime on the vine builds a palate that is rich, full, and generous. The wine is classic spearmint and raspberry with earthy undertones.

We know Musk Creek to age gracefully, developing distinctive notes of wild mushroom and forest floor.

ICONIC

"POBBLEBONK" FIELD BLEND

TASTING NOTE

The beauty of Pobblebonk is the chorus of this vineyard quintet – the pink fruits of Pinot Grigio, the sullen strength of skin-contact Friulano contrasting with the tingling acidity and opulent aromatics of Moscato and Riesling.

Co-fermentation of Pinot Grigio and Friulano begins as a brooding, reductive moody wine ignited with the blending of classic aromatic varieties; Moscato Giallo and Riesling.

The palate is a colourful tapestry of whole citrus fruits, jasmine tea, and orange blossom with a nutty background.

"AMPHORA" FRIULANO

TASTING NOTE

Delicate aromas and flavours of watercress, almond, country meadow and brie. Bouquet development over time adds a third complexing dimension of dried straw/hay and terpenes reminiscent of gracefully aged Rieslings. A sensory experience.

"TURBUL" FRIULANO

TASTING NOTE

Engaging, diaphanous aromas of angelica blossom, honey, parsley root, lemon rind with a peppery spice entice on the nose.

On the palate, the textural thrill of Turbul becomes apparent. Sleek, creamy, and beautifully poised, the richness from extended skin contact balanced with Friulano's fine acidity, achieved by strict crop levels to assure acid rich grapes with thick burnished skins.

"CAMPBELL & CHRISTINE"
PINOT NOIR

TASTING NOTE

The style of wine is very concentrated, masculine and satisfying for a Pinot Noir drinker. The focus is not new oak rather the pleasure of sun kissed tannins matured in seasoned barrels.

Has a dark black crimson colour, bright and translucent. The aroma is violets and plums, the palate rich and tannic however there is a deep and soft core.

"SEVENTEEN ROWS"
PINOT NOIR Limited Release

TASTING NOTE

Seventeen Rows embodies the idiosyncratic nature of Pinot Noir. Site expression personified. Brooding yet buoyant aromas of dark plum, violet, and rich earth stem from meticulous vineyard management, vine maturity and extended maceration. On the palate, earthy undertones of root vegetable and spice support pristine plum and cherry fruit. Seventeen Rows is pleasure and charm, rich and lingering; a true Mornington Peninsula Pinot Noir. Pure Pinot pleasure.

"LATE HARVEST"
PINOT GRIS

TASTING NOTE

The appearance is light to mid-yellow with high viscosity in the glass. There are spice, malt and peach-nectar aromas and it's rich, sweet and unctuous in the mouth. A complex and delicious sweet wine with seamless acidity and some cleansing bitterness on the finish.
