CORDERO DI MONTEZEMOLO

Piedmonte, Italy

Since 1340, 19 generations one after another, have managed the Monfalletto property in the town of La Morra, the center of the production of Barolo wine.

Even today, the property is entirely family-run. Giovanni Cordero di Montezemolo and his children Elena and Alberto are the protagonists of this millennium.

The historical single-body vineyard area of 28 hectares (69 acres), rare for the area, extends over all sides of the hill. The land has always been cultivated with the various local varieties, selected and distinctly planted according to sun exposure, type of soil and the altitude.

They craft wines of the ‘new’ Sicily typified by outstanding varietal expression, rich flavors, and a sensuality that could only be born under the Sicilian sun. FARNESE

Abruzzi, Italy

The name Farnese is one of Italy's most illustrious. In Renaissance times, this noble family's wines made scintillating appearances on the banquet tables of numerous European courts thanks to Princess Marguerite Farnese (nee Marguerite of Austria, an Emperor's daughter). In gratitude to the Farneses, successive owners today, Valentino Sciotti maintained the ancient name.

This makes it an ambassador for its region on both a national and international level. PASSIONE BIANCO

GRAPE VARIETIES

Garganega 100%.

VINIFICATION

This white wine is obtained with the appassimento technique: the Garganega grapes are harvested in advance, left to dry in trays for a short time to lose weight, concentrating sugar and aromas. They then macerate for 12 hours to enhance complexity and structure. At the end of the fermentation a part of the wine is matured in wooden barrels for some months before blending and bottling.

STYLE

An alluring white wine. Intense aromas of citrus fruits, almond and peaches on the nose, followed by a palate which is refreshing and well balanced with a lingering finish

PASSIONE ROSSO

GRAPE VARIETIES

Dried grapes of Merlot 40%, Corvina 30%, Croatina 30%

VINIFICATION

The Merlot and Corvina grapes are selected and hand harvested with great care, then left to dry for a month in wooden trays. In this dry and well ventilated environment where the humidity level is carefully controlled, the grapes lose around 30% of their water content and gain high sugar concentration. The vinification process takes place in separate steel tanks. Maturation in oak tonneaux (at second use) for 3 months. The grapes are blended and malolactic fermentation follows to harmonize and soften the wine.

STYLE

Deep ruby red in colour. The nose has intense aromas of red berries with hints of spices. The palate is balanced with velvety tannins, and it has a soft and round finish

POLETTI

Emilia Romagna, Italy

The company was founded by Aurelio Poletti in 1925. As a result of his commitment, followed by that of three generations of his descendants and other hard, honest workers, the company has continued to offer high quality products and services.

Casa Vinicola Poletti's production is based on its own grapes that come from fifty hectares of vineyards. The company processes around 50,000 quintals of grapes, some of which are also provided by selected local growers, on its own wine-producing plant, where 20 million litres of wine are made and bottled every year.

SANGIOVESE SUPERIORE

COLOUR

SANTA MARGHERITA

Alto Adige, Italy

Over 80 years ago, Count Gaetano Marzotto led the revitalization of an abandoned portion of the Venetian countryside. Here, where rivers from the alps cut through the sun-drenched hills on their winding way to the Mediterranean shore, he created much-needed farmlands and restored traditional wine-making in what had been a region of fine vineyards since the time of the Roman Empire.

Employing new agricultural science and a commitment to the needs of the Italian people, Marzotto gave this labour of love the name of his dear wife Margherita, and the first piece in the mosaic of Santa Margherita was set.

At Santa Margherita, we're wine people; we are passionate about wine because we are passionate about people and the lives they live. We believe that sharing memories and celebrating life with quality wines, food, family and friends is what truly matters most.

VALDADIGE PINOT GRIGIO

DOCG

AREA OF ORIGIN

To create this signature varietal, the fully ripe Pinot Grigio grapes are harvested in the Alto Adige vineyard in the Italian Alps by hand to ensure that the clusters remain whole and retain their delicate aromas and flavours.

WINEMAKING

Santa Margherita was the first company to vinify pink Pinot Grigio grapes as a white wine. In this process, the must does not remain in contact with the skins, from which it would otherwise take on the rusty color.

COLOUR

This dry white wine has a straw yellow colour.

BOUQUET

Its clean, intense aroma and bone-dry taste, with an appealing flavour of Golden Delicious apples, make Santa Margherita's Pinot Grigio a wine of great personality and versatility.

TENUTE PICCINI

Tuscany, Italy

Our tradition begins in 1882 with Angiolo Piccini, from a small family enterprise of only 7 ha. Guided only by passion for winemaking, from him the next generations inherited the most important rule in Piccini winemaking: "It is not how much you do, but how much passion you put in the doing."

Nowadays, Tenute Piccini has four separate estates in its portfolio and ranks as one of the most recognized brands of Tuscan wine in the world. Mario and Martina Piccini, now the IV generation of Piccini Family remember what their father once said: "Everything that we do in the present is both for the past and for the future."

This has been Piccini's guiding philosophy over the generations of the family, putting together the great values of the past and keeping our constant focus on the future.

VALIANO

Tuscany, Italy

Our philosophy at Valiano is to produce elegant wines that reflect the region and ultimately the characteristics of each particular vineyard.

Tradition comes in the presentation and the character of our wines focused on expressiveness of grape variety in relation with its territory.

Valiano is immersed in the typical Tuscan countryside, in the heart of Chianti Classico spreads over 230 hectares, 70 of which are dedicated to specialised vineyards.

While the Mediterranean sun is conducive to an extended growing season, there is also a considerable variation between day and night-time temperatures. Such temperature variations work to the benefit of grapes in that it not only facilitates berry growth and coloration but also promotes complexity in grape flavours.

VIGNETI DEL SALENTO

Salento, Italy

SALENTO: LIGHT AND STONE

“Light” and “Stone” - that’s where it all begins in the land of Salento.

The “light” penetrates in the secret clefts of the ground with its Mediterranean character, it warms the red colour of the soil, draws the scents from the sea and makes the sparse bunches of grapes turn red.

The solid, indestructible “stone”, soft and malleable, emerges from the subsoil and tangles with the Trulli (typical cylinder shaped houses with a conical roof) across the meadows where the trees are hundreds of years old.

In this special atmosphere the old grapevines lay still and silent, in the same place for almost a century. After years of research to find the best and oldest vineyards in the Manduria and Sava area which, due to their specific soil and climate conditions, are considered the most suitable areas for the main grape variety: the Primitivo.

VIGNETI DEL VULTURE

Pipoli, Italy

For centuries the volcanoes were experienced as a source of destruction and death; today our farmers are compensated for the damage caused by the eruptions of the past centuries by being able to grow vines on a lava soil of incomparable wealth of minerals, which provides the grapes with great complexity.

Our vines have struggled for centuries to adapt to this land and today varieties like Aglianico and Greco give their best in these beautifully unspoilt areas.

VILLA AL CORTILE

Tuscany, Italy

Villa al Cortile is a 12-ha boutique winery focused on the production of Brunello di Montalcino wines, which are often regarded as the highest expression of Sangiovese grapes.

Started back in the 1882 when Angiolo Piccini bought 7ha vineyard in the Chianti Classico area. This boutique winery crafts high quality wines. Elegance rather than power, big barrel 'botti' rather small barriques, to preserve the typical Sangiovese expression in relation to its territory of origin.
