LAWSON'S DRY HILLS

Marlborough, NZ

The dedicated bunch of people that make up our small team at Lawson's Dry Hills are very 'hands on', living and breathing every part of the viticultural and winemaking process. We do a lot of talking and tasting before pouring our shared inspiration into every bottle.

The resulting wines offer an authentic expression of the place and the grape variety they are made from together with a certain special something that we believe can only come from passion.

It would seem that the combination of elements that go into each of our wines is a winning formula. We have lost count of all our gold medals – the certificates cover the walls in our cellar door while the shelves are buckling with the weight of all our trophies – both local and overseas. But actually we're not ones to boast so that's enough of that. We'd rather roll our sleeves up and get stuck in to making the best wines possible, after all, that's what we dream of, talk about and well, it's actually what we do.

Pip fruit and nectarine flavours abound with background notes of nougat and spice giving the wine depth and interest. This wine will develop wonderfully over the next 3-5 years.

PINOT NOIR

TASTING NOTE

The bright cherry and raspberry aromas scream "Pinot Noir". The palate is gentle and supple with surprising power and depth, the wine has a lovely length, soft chalky tannins and gentle acidity. The aromas of fragrant vanilla and mocha are derived from maturation in a mixture of some new, but mainly older French oak barriques.
